The Badge of Honesty

Is on every wrapper of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery because a full list of the ingredients composing it is printed there in plain English. Forty years of experience has proven its superior worth as a blood purifier and invigorating tonic for the cure of stomach disorders and all liver ills. It builds up the run-down system as no other tonic can in which alcohol is used. The active medicinal principles of native roots such as Golden Seal and Queen's root, Stone and Mandrake root, Bloodroot and Black Cherrybark are extracted and preserved by the use of chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce at Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet which quotes extracts from well-recognized medical authorities such as Drs. Bartholow, King, Scudder, Coe, Ellingwood and a host of others, showing that these roots can be depended upon for their curative action in all weak states of the stomach, accompanied by indigestion or dyspepsia as well as in all bilious or liver complaints and in all "wasting diseases" where there is loss of flesh and gradual running down of the strength and system.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes rich, pure blood and so invigorates and regulates the stomach, liver and bowels, and, through them, the whole system. Thus all skin affections, blotches, pimples and eruptions as well as scrofulous swellings and old open running sores or ulcers are cured and healed. In treating old running sores, or ulcers, it is well to insure their healing to apply to them Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve. If your druggist don't happen to have this Salve in stock, send fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and a large box of the "All-Healing Salve" will reach you by return post.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

OBJECTS TO DANCES AND CARDS

Bishop Charles T. Olmstead, of the Episcopal Diocese of Central New York, is out with a statement today in which he expresses in unmistakable terms his opposition to lotteries, raffles and card parties as means for the support of the Episcopal Church. He directs his statement particularly to the Protestant Episcopal church-goers in his diocese, and, after remarking that fairs, raffles and suppers are a descent from the high plane of Christian living, continues:

"As to card parties, dancing and theatricals there is at least one reason why it might be best to avoid them all, and that is that a good many Christians consider them wrong in themselves. We may not agree with such people and may make use of those practices for our own personal amusement, so long as we do it in moderation, but it is a question whether, under the circumstances, it is wise or charitable to use them to support the church. Moreover, being mere amusements, and ministering as they do to the rage for entertainment, which is so excessive in these days, it does seem more than a trifle undignified for the church to have to resort to such methods in carrying on her holy work.

"My conclusion would be, therefore, that unless the circumstances be very exceptional, it would be wiser not to resort to the dance, the card table or the stage for the support of the church of God."

FINDS TREASURE SHIP.

The recent shifting of the bed of the Trinity river at a point a few miles above Pacific, Texas, has solved the mystery of the disappearance of a British yacht, which has been missing for seventy years.

The hull of this vessel has been brought to light, and upon the deck are three brass cannon of ancient pattern. The discovery of the vessel was made by John M. Sparks, a well-known citizen of Nacogdoches, Texas, who was making a trip down the river when his attention was attracted to the wreck.

A rise in the river washed away the sand which had covered it for nearly three-quarters of a century. The importance of the discovery lies in the fact that according to tradition the hulk of the yacht contains English gold coin to the amount of $150,000.

The yacht was said to have been chartered by the Mexican government to bring arms, ammunition and money to Santa Anna, for use in his campaign against the Texans in the war which finally gave Texas her freedom. The vessel was proceeding up the Trinity river when it struck a snag and was sunk. The officers and crew of the vessel were said to have joined Santa Anna and were all killed a few days later in the battle of San Juan. Sparks claims whatever treasure the vessel may contain by right of discovery.

LINGERING COLD.

Withstood Other Treatment But Quickly Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"Last winter I caught a very severe cold which lingered for weeks," says J U quhart, of Zephyr, Ontario. "My cough was very dry and harsh. The local dealer recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and guaranteed it, so I gave it a trial. One small bottle of it cured me. I believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be the best I have ever used." This remedy is for sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

5000 BRIDES WANTED.

With Spokane, Wash., crying out for 5000 women between the ages of 20 and 30 years, as wives of eligible bachelors longing for the married state, and with like conditions existing in 150,000 square miles of territory adjacent to that city, the Spokane Affinity Club has come into existence here.

Its president, J. C. Brown, secretary of the Spokane Mining Brokers' Exchange, declares that the purpose of the new organization is to prevail upon the young women of the country to come to that city. The club now has twenty-three members, all less than 30 years of age, and any unmarried man between the ages of 20 and 40 years is eligible, if he has $1000 in cash, or its equivalent in real estate.

The club will provide the marriage license for each member who marries. It will also pay the minister and furnish the best man, as well as bearing the expense of the wedding feast, at which all members will be guests. It will also provide maids or matrons of honor and bridesmaids.

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation even to very young babies. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung-healing mountainous shrub, furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a resinous plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the Doctor uses, "The Sacred Herb." Demand Dr. Shoop's. Take no other. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

MONDAY EVENING, DEC. 2, 1907.

MR. C. C. CARLIN, of this city, today reached the goal of his ambition when he took his seat as the representative in Congress from the Eighth Virginia district in which he was born and has lived most of his life. Beginning the active pursuits of life as a clerk in a store when a mere boy, by his own exertions and by an indomitable will and perseverance he has risen by rapid strides to the position of Congressman and his many friends in his native city and throughout the district predict for him an active and successful career in the halls of the nation's legislature. That he will devote his time and talents to the interest of his constituents all who know him feel confident, and it is certain that the Eighth district will not suffer for want of activity and watchfulness of its new representative. His constituents should uphold his hands and aid him in all he will endeavor for the good of his State and district.

IN ADDITION to brain storm and dementia Americana, we have "Obsession," which is urged in extenuation of the crime of murder. Rev. Dr. Utter was one of the witnesses at the Bradley trial in Washington Saturday, and in his testimony he referred to demoniac possession and what he called "obsession." When the reverend gentleman was asked to describe what he meant by obsession, Dr. Utter, facing the jury and raising his voice, said it was "possession from the outside," and he attempted to illustrate by saying that if a man was possessed of the devil, the devil was supposed to be in him. "Obsession is an idea that burns into the mind and controls outward objects and controls the inward person. It differs from possession in being an outward object instead of something inside. It was the thought of her love for her victim that controlled her."

THE sporting season virtually came to a close Saturday in the various colleges throughout the country, and it is to be hoped that those who have devoted so much time to play may take to their books with equal energy. With baseball in the spring and summer and football in the fall, to say nothing of other sports the year round, but little time is left to the votaries of these games to study and frequently the fond parents who deny themselves the luxuries, if not the comforts, of life for their sons' education are poorly requited for the sacrifices they make. In the past few years sports have run riot and that this is at the expense of useful knowledge the most casual observer will admit.

IT IS said by the knowing ones that when the Sixtieth Congress met today, it found its work all cut and dried. Senator Aldrich and Speaker Cannon have attended to that. Unless the plans of these leaders are upset by some wholly-unexpected revolt of the republicans, here is what Congress will do: Enact legislation to give greater elasticity to the currency; make routine appropriations; let the tariff alone; criticise Roosevelt; talk.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, Nov. 30.

The Senate committee investigating the Brownville affair concluded its work today. The majority sides with the administration in holding that the niggers did the shooting, but will recommend a bill premitting such as can prove their innocence to re-enlist.

The six destroyers, forming the advance for Admiral Evans' battleship cruise to the Pacific, got under way at 10 a. m. today from Hampton Roads, according to a dispatch received at the Navy Department from the commandant the Norfolk navy yard. The flotilla commanded by Lieutenant H. I. ne.

Former Senator Henry G. Davis, of West Virginia, eighty-four years old, and thirty times a millionaire, has decided to take unto himself a bride. Mrs. Henry G. Davis, to be, is Miss Maud Ashford, of Washington, a newspaper woman. The marriage will take place, it is said, about New Years. By marrying again, the richest man in West Virginia, will practically cut off his daughters, Mrs. Stephen B. Elkins and Mrs. Arthur Lee, from the inheritance of all of his colosal fortune.

Mr. W. J. Bryan came upon the floor of the House today just before the opening and his presence was greeted with great applause. Later he was surrounded by a large number of members eager to shake his hand. He occupied a seat on the floor during the opening ceremonies. He said he was there just to shake hands and not to give the democrats advice. "We certainly need some advice damn bad," exclaimed Judge Lamar (dem. Fla.). Mr. Bryan announced he would leave for the west tomorrow night.

Mr. C. C. Carlin, of the Eighth Virginia district, took his seat as a member of the House today. Among those of his friends present to see his installation into office were a number from Alexandria besides his wife and aged mother, who occupied seats in the gallery and who accompanied Mr. Carlin to Washington this morning from Alexandria.

Both the Senators and all the members of the House from Virginia were present today when Congress met.

Richmond Pearson Hobson began his legislative career with a scrap. He and Assistant Doorkeeper Kennedy had a tilt when the new Alabama Congressman tried to run in more than his allotted number of guests into the gallery.

"I won't deviate one single point from the announcement I have already made," said President Roosevelt today to Representative Hinshaw of Nebraska who called to tell him that the people of the State wished him to run again for the presidency. This is the most direct and positive statement that has been made by the President on the subject of the third term, since the announcement of his election in 1904.

According to estimates furnished by the various departments of the government, and transmitted to Congress today by the Secretary of the Treasury, it will cost fifty six million dollars more to run the government in the fiscal year beginning July next than was appropriated by Congress for the current year. The total amount appropriated for the current year was $710,287,626.20.

President Roosevelt will use his influence to kill the Hayes Oriental exclusion bill, which the California representative introduced in Congress today.

The annual message of the President was not sent to Congress today, on account of the early adjournment of the Senate, and the unorganized condition of the House. It is expected that it will read in both Senate and House early Tuesday afternoon.

Nearly 2,000 new bills were introduced in the House today, being placed in the "hopper." Mr. Henry introdvced a bill making two cents per mile the legal passenger rate on all interstate railroads.

THE EXPOSITION CLOSED.

Bright sunshine, with the haze of Indian summer lingering over the landscape, greeted the closing day of the Jamestown Exposition, and the attractive programme of the day drew a great crowd from Portsmouth and Norfolk to the grounds.

It was a day of partings and farewells among the thousands of exhibitors, concessionaries, state building hosts, employes and officials. In the evening, in the Auditorium, President Tucker delivered a speech reviewing the Exposition and setting forth its hardships and its successes, Director General Martin made a financial statement which reflects credit upon his business control of affairs recently, and which suggests financial sucess had he been in charge from the first.

At midnight President Tucker turned off the lights and the big fair was closed. Its future is problematic. The government and most other exhibits will remain intact for 30 days to await action by Congress as to re-opening for four months next year, beginning with June. Receivers may be asked to keep the Exposition intact and in readiness for another year on a prospective sale as a whole of all the property.

At the concluding exercises President Tucker reviewed results obtained by the exposition, recounting the obstacles which had made it a financial failure. He attributed the lack of success to the unpreparedness of the exposition upon the date set for opening. The sum of $1,848,843 was expended upon the exposition buildings and grounds. It was expected that there would be between three and four million paid admissions but the books show only 2,800,000 admissions, of which only 1,500,000 were paid. Mr. Tucker declared that the value of the property exceeds by a third the amount of indebtedness which is about $2,000,000.

President Tucker departed from his set address to pay his respects to some of the local newspaper correspondents, declaring that it was their unfair reports sent out that in part gave the exposition a black eye and helped cause its financial failure. He insisted that the criticisms upon it early in its history were unfair, prejudiced and not deserved.

Virginia's large fruit and perishable exhibits will be distributed among the charitable institutions of the State.

THE STATE'S FINANCES.

Virginia will have a surplus of $1,000,000 when her books are balanced for the fiscal year. Schools have been paid in full, all salaries for State officers have been settled, interest on the public debt has been attended to, appropriations for all institutions have been carried out in full and there is the sum mentioned in hand for the attention of the general assembly at its coming session. This will be the object of solicitation and care by the people who want money for all sorts of schemes. The school people want to get another $300,000 for the public schools, the hospital boards will ask for $500,000, the war against the white plague will ask for something, the road advocates want to expand their work, there is the move to build a school for the negro deaf and dumb and blind and the usual clamor for an increase in salaries. Already the life of the members of the legislature is being made strenuous, and the number of letters each is receiving is noticeable for its increase.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Dec. 2, 11 a. m.—London was an unimportant factor during the first hour. Arbitrage broker selling 35,000 share in that period and encouraging renewed aggressive bear attacks. The combined pressure caused a weak tone from the start and at the end of the hour prices generally showed losses ranging from 1 to 2 points. Government bonds unchanged; other bonds irregular.

CAUCUS.

As stated in the Gazette of Saturday the democrats of the House that evening held a caucus and nominated Mr. John Sharp Williams for speaker and Mr. Charles A. Edwards, of Texas, for clerk.

Candidates for the other offices were designated as follows: Sergeant-at-arms, J. T. Ellington, North Carolina; doorkeeper, H. E. Graper, Tenn.; postmaster, R. L. Douglas, S. C.; chaplain, Rev. E. D. Bagley, D. of C. These nominations are merely complimentary. There are, however, some minor offices which the democrats are petmitted to fill, and over one of them—that of deputy sergeant-at-arms—to fill the place formerly held by Ike Hill, of Ohio, the principal contest of the caucus occurred. There were four candidates for this office but Hobert E. Cowert, of Texas, won by a handsome majorityr Nominations were made for other special offices as follows: Paul D Porter, pair clerk; F. B. Knight and J. J. Sinnot, messengers.

The speech of Mr. Williams to the caucus indicates that as effective an attack as can be made under the rules of the House will be made against the republican tariff, and that the policy of the party in power in issuing bonds in "times of profound peace" is to be rubbed home as often and as bitterly as possible.

The sudden adjournment of the caucus prevented a decision being reached on the resolution of Mr. Hay, of Virginia, providing that the democrats of the House should not allow the consideration of any bill by unanimous consent until the ways and means committee had reported a bill for the reduction of tariff schedules.

The resolution had just been read when Bourke Cockran, a member of the ways and means committee, and noted as an advocate of tariff reform, moved to adjourn, and the motion prevailed by a vote of 90 to 33.

Mr. Jones, of Virginia had a resolution to present, but the sudden adjournment prevented his doing so. The resolution provided that the minority leader should not name the minority members of the standing committees of the House but should leave this duty to the Speaker who has usually done so.

The republicans of the House met in caucus Saturday night and renominated Mr. Joseph G. Cannon of Illinois for speaker and all the present incumbents for the other offices, viz. Alexander McDowell, Pennsylvania, clerk; Frank B. Lyon, N. Y., doorkeeper; Henry Casson, Wisconsin, sergeant-at-arms. In addition S. A. Langum of Minnesota, was named postmaster to succeed Capt. J. H. McElroy, deceased.

The application of Peter H. Porter, of the Thirty-fourth District of New York for admission to the caucus was rejected. Mr. Porter was elected as an independent over Mr. Wadsworth, the republican nominee.

In his speech Speaker Cannon declared against the Roosevelt policy of centralization and objected to experimental legislation. His speech indicated quite plainly that no currency legislation will be permitted to rush through the House, nor will anything looking like even a whisper against the present tariff law be tolerated. "The recent shock to business that has arrested commerce," he said significantly, "admonishes us to approach our task with soberness and courage." Again, with much emphasis, Mr. Canon urged that the republicans should hold fast to the principles laid down by the fathers and leave to the States the jurisdiction not granted to the federal government. He warned his colleagues that they should be reminded by events that it is not a time for extravagance or "excursions into the realm of experiment in legislation." Neither did he thiuk it wise to increase the revenues nor foster a centralization of power which, Mr. Cannon said, of necessity developed quite fast enough in this country.

THE SIXTIETH CONGRESS.

The Sixtieth Congress assembled at noon today. Long before the gravels fell in the Senate and House, a stream of people filled the galleries and overflowed into the corridors—a mass of confusion and color. Admission was by card only.

As flowers have been barred from the floor, there was nothing much for the spectators to see, but "statesmen."

The procedure in the Senate was formal and brief. In the House, the entire membership had to be sworn in, Speaker Cannon and the other officers had to be re-elected, and seats had to be assigned.

In the upper body, Vice President Fairbanks presided, the organization of the Senate being continuous. Rev. Edward Everett Hale, chaplain, offered prayer, the roll was called and the Vice President announced a quorum present. The swearing in of newly elected senators was then taken up, after which Senator Allison, master-of-ceremonies, offered the usual resolution directing the appointment of a committee, to act with a committee of the House, to wait upon President Roosevelt and inform him that Congress was assembled and prepared to receive any communications he might be pleased to make. The committee will not report until tomorrow. Then another resolution was adopted, informing the House that the Senate was ready to work. One more resolution was needed to start the legislative machinery. It fixed the hour of meeting at noon each day.

Resolutions were then offered officially informing the Senate of the deaths of Senators Morgan and Pettus, of Alabama, and, out of respect to their memories, adjournment was taken.

In the House Mr. McDonald, clerk of the last House, called the body to order. Many of those in the packed galleries were the relatives and intimate friends of the new members. The diplomatic corps were generously represented.

In the Presidential gallery was Mrs. Longworth, and her sister, Miss Ethel Roosevelt.

The blind chaplain, Henry N. Couden, offered prayer, the roll was called by States, and a quorum found to be present. Then the question of who would be chosen Speaker was placed before the House. Col. Hepburn, chairman of the republican caucus, which had decided upon Mr. Cannon, as a successor to himself, nominated the Illinois member. The chairman of the democratic caucus placed John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, the minority's candidate, before the House as the proper man to be elected. Of course Mr. Cannon was chosen, and was escorted to the rostrum by a committee headed by his rival, the Mississippian.

Mr. Cannon's appearance was the signal for an outburst of applause. Mr. Williams introduced Cannon to the House as the man "who will be, and deserves to be, its speaker." Mr. Cannon stood with his right hand uplifted, as General Bingham, of Philadelphia, the "Father of the House," administered the oath of office.

The Speaker then made a short speech. The clerk read the roll by States and territories and the members came forward to the Speaker, who adminsatered the oath of allegiance.

The next number of the programme was the selection of the minor officers. The republicans had their slate, and the democrats theirs. The republican candidates were chosen and were called to the rostrum and sworn in.

Having appointed committees to notify the President and Senate that the House had organized and was ready for business, Mr. Dalzell, spokesman for the rules committee, moved that the rules of the last House be adopted. Mr. Williams objected, by telling the new republican members that the rules are arrogant and harmful, and that they should not be adopted for longer than thirty days.

Despite the warning of the minority leader, the rules were adopted by an overwhelming vote, although a few republicans were found to have lined up with the democrats.

Then came the grand biennial lottery—the drawing of seats. The floor leaders of both sides—Payne, of New York, and Williams were first given their choice, as was General Bingham.

The House was then informed of the deaths of Representatives Slemp, of Virginia, and Smith, of Illinois, in respect to their memory adjournment was taken.

Between 50 and 60 miners are entombed in the Naomi mine, of the United Mine Coal Company, at Fayette, City, Pa., as the result of an explosion of black damp at 8 o'clock last night. It is thought many are dead behind tons of rock and coal which fell during the concussion and blocked the entrance. The explosion was caused when a miner with an open lamp entered one of the old workings.

A dispatch from Wheeling, W. Va. says William Mullins, who recently came into possession of a fortune through a coal deal, is dead and Lee Williams is said to be dying as the result of a revolver duel at Cranberry, in southern West Virginia. Today's Telegraphic News.

Mrs. Bradley's Trial.

Washington, Dec. 2.—Mrs. Anna Bradley went into court today hopeful, yet nerving herself for any outcome.

By nightfall, or shortly after the last word shall have been spoken in her defence, the last plea made, Judge Stafford will have delivered his instructions, and her fate will be in the hands of the jury who for upward of three weeks, have been listening to the story of her life. A verdict, or an announcement of disagreement, is expected before midnight

Attorney George Hoover delivered his address to the jury in her behalf at the opening of court today. He was followed by Judge Powers. District Attorney Baker is to close for the government.

The defense looks for a prompt verdict of acquittal. The government attorney expects at least a verdict of manslaughter.

Still Fighting the Frenchmen.

Algiers, Dec. 2.—French troops crossed the frontier from Algeria into Morocco today and are shelling the strongholds of the Benis Hassen tribesmen and their allies in an effort to drive them from the hill fastnesses to the plains, where an attempt will be made to completely demolish their force.

The natives' positions are so strong that it is not yet certain whether they can be dislodged even by artillery. Their supplies have been effectually cut off, however, and the French believe they will be finally starved into giving battle.

The French force now numbers about 6,000. Twice as many of the tribesmen are estimated to be in the field.

The most disquieting feature of the situation is that the declaration of a holy war is spreading rebellion all along both sides of the border. Continued fighting in Morocco is practically certain to provoke interference from Germany.

Hoffman and his daughter Nellie, of this city, and an unidentified white man. Joseph V. Duke, Washington, is among the more injured. The accident was caused by the train being swiped by derailed cars of a freight train which was derailed as the passenger train was passing.

Hau's Sentence Commuted.

Karlsruhe, Germany, Dec. 2.—The sentence against Carl Hau for murdering his mother-in-law, Frau Molitor, has been commuted from death to life imprisonment. Frau Molitor was shot dead more than a year ago while walking on a street at Baden-Baden. Hau was admittedly in the city at the time, but professed to have gone there from England to see his sister-in-law. He left Germany at once, but was extradited, tried, convicted and sentenced to die. A sensational feature of the case was his wife's suicide soon after his arrest as a result, is was said, of worry over the rigorous examinations to which the police subjected her. Hau was professor of Roman Law in George Washington University at Washington, D. C.

Trial of Murderers.

Montecarlo, Dec. 2.—Vere Goold, younger brother of a British baronet, was placed on trial with his French wife, for the murder of Mrs. Emma Levin. Parts of the murdered woman's dismembered body were found in Goolds' trunk at the railroad station last August. Six weeks police inquisition wrested a confession from the prisoners. Continued extravagance had exhausted the couples resources, and they determined to rob Mrs. Levin of her jewelry, worth many thousand dollars. "We did not mean to kill her, but to flee after-taking her gems," Goold said, "but she screamed for aid and I lost my head and stabbed her to death.

Steamship Destroyed by Fire.

Philadelphia, Dec. 2 — The Atlantic Transport Liner Montana, which arrived yesterday from London with miscellaneous cargo from London, was totally destroyed by fire today. The blaze started in the after cargo hold, and before the bulkheads could be closed spread through the vessel. Ten thousand gallons of oil were stored on the dock, and it required super-human effort on the part of the firemen to keep the flames from spreading as the shed caught fire time and again. The fire was finally confined to the vessel. Loss $100,000.

Thaw Trial Postponed.

New York, Dec. 2.—The trial of Harry K. Thaw for the killing of Stanford White was postponed today by Supreme Court Justice Victor J. Dowling until January 6. The difficulty of getting a jury with the prospect of its members being locked up during the Christmas holidays was the cause of the postponement. Justice Dowling in signing the order likewise ordered that the special panel of 300 talesmen from which Thaw's jurors will be drawn shall be in court on the date set.

The Entombed Miners.

Bellvernon, Pa., Dec. 2.—It is stated by the mine officials that forty-six men were entombed by the recent explosion. All are believed to be dead, and it will be many hours before the bodies can be reached, as the concrete lining of the shaft was utterly destroyed and the gallery in which the men were working is choked with debris for many yards. The rescuing party is obliged to work cautiously as the mine is still filled with gas.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

The memorial services conducted at the Opera House last night by Alexandria Lodge, No 758, B. P. O. Elks, were on the same interesting lines as those of previous years. The address was magnetic, the music fine and every other incident in connection with the services interesting.

The hall was filled to overflowing with a representative audience, ladies composing a large percentage, and the ceremonies, which continued about two hours and a half, enlisted the close attention of all present.

The services, which are held once a year, are in respect to the memory of "absent brothers."

The exercises were opened with an overture, "Raymond," by the orchestra, after which there was an invocation by Rev. W. J. Morton. A funeral march followed, when the first part of the opening ceremony began. These were conducted by Mr. Harry Fleishmann, Exalted Ruler, and officers. The following programme was rendered:

Quartet, "Vacant Chair," solo, "Here's to Our Absence Brothers," E. Forrest Birrell; opening ode; prayer by Chaplain H. D. Quinn; solo, "Recessional" Miss Kate Smoot; selection, "Traviata," orchestra; quartet, "Integer Vitae;" paraphase, "Melodies in F," orchestra; solo, "The Rosary," J. Harris Franklin; recitation, "Thanatopsis," Brother E. J. Fleming; song, "For All Fraternity," orchestra; solo, "The Penitent," Kenneth W. Ogden; selection, "Ave Maria," orchestra; solo, "Ruth and Naomi," Mrs. T. A. Hulfish; trombone solo, "Evening Star," orchestra; address by Hon. Morris Sheppard; solo, "The Way of Peace," George W. Evans; cornet solo, "Rosary," orchestra; quartet, "Abide With Me;" sexet, "Lucia di Lammermoor;" closing ceremonies, exalted ruler and officers. The audience than sang, standing, "Nearer, My God, to Thee," after which Rev. Dr. W. F. Fisher, pastor of the First Baptist Church, pronounced benediction.

The address of the evening was delivered by Hon. Morris Sheppard, who took "The Grave," for his subject, and it was the consensus of opinion that it was one of the most thrilling and entertaining ever delivered on a similar occasion. During his remarks he paid a beautiful tribute to fraternal orders, especially the Elks. The large audience listened with close attention and drank in every word he uttered. The speaker was eloquent and his words flowed with a regularity that was much commented upon.

Those who rendered the vocal and instrumental parts of the services were perfect in their parts, and received the praise justly due them.

The following members of Alexandria Lodge have died since its organization: W. L. Hayes, George F. Steiner, Champ Walker, Samuel Wingfield, Donald McLean, Daniel Ruben, Thos. F. Spinks, Peyton B. Dearborn, W. A. Moore, W. L. Jordan and Peter Sinclair, the last two having died this year. As is issued there was a roll of the lodge's dead by the secretary, and a figure disappeared from the dial of the illuminated clock for each of the names.

It is estimated that about 1,500 persons attended the services. Members of the order to the number of 250 were seated on the stage, which had been artistically draped in cloth of purple and white and decorated with palms, ferns, and ivy. An Elk mounted on a platform occupied the rear of the stage, while above it was placed an illuminated clock. On one side was an American flag at half staff and on the other an immense wreath of amaranth and ivy, bearing the inscription, "Our Absent Brothers."

Music was furnished by an orchestra under the direction of Prof. Chris Arth, of Washington. Mrs. Charles G. Lennon served as accompanist. The members composing the quartet were: S. Frank Field, George H. Evans, Kenneth W. Ogden and M. L. Dinwiddie. The memorial committee were: Charles B. Marshall, chairman; Charles C. Carlin, James W. Bales, A. D. Montier and James F. Peyton.

The officers of Alexandria lodge are: Harry Fleischmann, exalted ruler; Frederick P. Russell, esteemed leading knight; D. E. Robey, esteemed loyal knight; Howard W. Smith, esteemed lecturing knight; E. J. Fleming, secretary; C. J. Geisendaffer, treasurer; Thomas D. Downey, tiler; G. T. Caton, esquire; N. B. Quinn, chaplain; A. H. Smythe, inner guard; P. F. Downey, organist. The past exalted rulers are: Edward J. Quinn, George F. Bradley, Jacob Brill, C. C. Carlin, W. H. P. Kelley, and Louis E. Shuman.

The trustees are: Charles B. Marshall, J. B. Fitzgerald, and Edward J. Quinn.

Chief Pettey, of the fire department, and two assistants were in the hall during the exercises guarding against possible fire.

The decorations were arranged under the supervision of Mr. A. D. Montier.

PREPARATIONS COMPLETED.

The final arrangements for the big evangelistic meetings to begin in the Second Presbyterian Church tonight have been completed. Mr. J. G. Dailey, his son and two daughters, composing the Dailey Sacred Quartet, will arrive from Philadelphia this afternoon. Tonight they will sing a number of selections and assist the choir of the church in leading the congregational singing. These services will begin promptly at 7.30 o'clock.

Tomorrow morning Rev. Richard Orme Flinn, of Atlanta, will conduct a Bible study hour at the church from 10:30 to 11:30. The Daileys are expected to sing at this service. Tuesday night and each night for the next ten days there will be the song service by the quartet and the congregation, and preaching by Mr. Flinn.

Owing to the popularity of the Dailey Quartet in this city it is probable that the house will be crowded from the first night.

The members of the police force have donned their regulation winter uniforms and black helmets.

UNIDENTIFIED MAN.

The Police Department of Washington is still in a quandary in regard to the identity of the man found, suffering a few days ago on board the steamer Harry Randall, and who died of cerebral hemorrhage. The police stated that his name was Thomas Ferguson, but no papers were found on him to indicate where he came from and who he was, although they believe he is a Marylander, and probably a Baltimorean. The police have received word from the Baltimore authorities to the effect that no one of that name was known in that city. The body is now at the Washington Morgue, awaiting a possible identification. He is described as being a man of handsome appearance, 5 feet 10 inches tall, weighing about 150 pounds and 53 years of age. His hair is thin and brown, his mustache sandy and he has a Vandyke beard streaked with gray, while the complexion is rather clear. Two upper teeth are missing.

WEDDING.

The marriage of Miss Bertha Girardeau, of Atlanta, Ga., and Mr. Thomas Luckett, of this city, occurred Saturday night at the residence of the bride's cousin, Mrs. W. W. Brewin, on Forty-second street, Savannah, Ga. Miss Girardeau's attendant was Miss Claribel Lee. Rev. James Y. Fair performed the ceremony. The house was prettily decorated in palms and cut flowers. The bride wore a tailor suit of blue cloth and carried a bouquet of roses. Miss Girardean is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Girardeau, of Atlanta. Mr. Luckett holds a responsible position with the Southern Railway Company in Washington. They will reside in this city.

CRAWFORD'S DISAPPEARANCE.

The Washington police are of the belief that Lieut. John W. Crawford, United States navy, secretary to Admiral Dewey, who wrote that he was going to commit suicide in a letter addressed to his friend, Bennett A. Allen, actually carried out his threat, notwithstanding reports from this city that he was seen the evening of November 22, after the finding of a hat and coat, identified as his, on board the ferryboat Lackawaona. The river between Alexandria and Washington has been dragged, but the body has not been found.

NEW PLANT OPENS.

As will be seen by an advertisement in another column, Mr. Robert S. Barrett has opened his publishing and job printing office and plant at 112 south Fairfax street. The establishment is one of the finest in the South and is equipped with the most modern material and machinery. Besides the Alexandria Directory, Mr. Barrett will publish the Danville Directory. Mr. Hubert J. Mills, the superintendent of the plant, is a mechanic of exceptional ability, and it is safe to say that the work gotten out at the office will be second to none.

FUNERAL.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Jane C. Dement took place yesterday afternoon from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Charles N. Steele, 422 south Fairfax street. Rev. Edgar Carpenter, rector of Grace Episcopal Church, officiated, and the interment was made in Bethel Cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. August Oehlert, John P. Steiner, James B. Steiner, Frank L. Entwisle, Frank M. Hamilton and Oscar W. Phillips.

TO GO AFTER MIDGETS.

Warden Canler and Officer Knight, will leave on Wednesday next for Fredericksburg, from which place they will conduct George Midgets, colored, to the jail in this city. On the 9th instant Midgets will be arraigned in the Corporation Court when Judge Barley will sentence him to be hanged some time in January next for the killing of Charles T. Smith on upper King street in October, 1906.

THE WEATHER.

The Weather Bureau barely sustained its reputation yesterday. The forecast was to the effect that rain and snow would prevail. A few flakes of snow drifted lazily toward the earth in the the morning and there were some drops of rain. The temperature was raw throughout the day. At an early hour this morning a brisk northwest wind set in, which was accompanied by flurries of snow.

CONFIRMATION SERVICES.

Over one hundred children and adults were confirmed by Rt. Rev. Augustie Van de Vyver, Bishop of Richmond, at St. Mary's Church at the 7 o'clock mass yesterday morning. A large class also made their first communion. An interesting and practical sermon was delivered which was celebrated at 10:30 o'clock, ed by the bishop at the high mass.

Color Gossip.

Have human beings, like animals, a tendency to clothe themselves in colors that reproduce the prevailing tone of their surroundings? There is another question for scientists who have discovered that different colors produce differing effects on the health and disposition of individuals. At all events color conventions in different parts of the world are decidedly at a variance. For example, while we use black in mourning the Chinese wear white gowns, white caps, white shoes and white ties on their cues. The royal color in Europe is purple—a hue of red, not of violet, as often misrepresented. In China the imperial color is yellow, and a certain shade of yellow may not be worn by the common people, but is conferred upon high officials as a great distinction.

Some individual color preferences are historical. Cleopatra loved yellow; Mme. de Pompadour delighted in a charming mixture of pink and blue; Napoleon's first empress, Josephine, wore the daring combination of black, white and emerald green, while Eugene Field boldly declares that—

Any color, so long as it's red,
Is good enough for me.

Bargain Sales In Japan.

Even in placid Japan they have bargain sales, but they conduct them on very different principles from the scrimmages we have over here. An amusing American woman has embodied her experiences of traveling alone in Japan in a most entertaining volume just published, whence may be gathered a description of a sale at the greatest trading house in Japan.

The goods are not flung about. They are shown to advantage in locked cases, and the heads of departments keep the keys. Remnants, however, are laid on mats, and, though there is keen anxiety to secure bargains, perfect order and quiet prevail.

Babies toddle about quite comfortably, others sleep on their mothers' backs. However orderly and quiet though the Japanese bargain sale may be, it is not free from the shoplifter, and it is interesting to hear that the detective is as necessary in the flowery land as in England. The kimono sleeve is a useful receptacle for unconsidered trifles.—London Ladies' Pictorial.

Giving Him a Chance.

Mrs. Wilson's husband was often obliged to go to New York on business and frequently did not reach his home until the arrival of the midnight train. Mrs. Wilson had been in the habit of sleeping peacefully at these times without fear, but a number of burglaries in the neighborhood during one of her husband's trips to New York had disturbed her calm.

On the night of his return Mr. Wilson was stealing carefully up the front stairs, as was his wont on such occasions, so that his wife would not be wakened, when he heard her voice, high and strained.

"I don't know whether you are my husband or a burglar," came the excited tones, "but I am going to be on the safe side and shoot, so if you are Henry you'd better get out of the way!"—Youth's Companion.

Importance of the Engineer.

One fact is certain—that in the future the engineer, using the term in its widest sense, will become increasingly more and more essential to the social progress of the universe, and that on his labors and inventiveness more than on that of any other class of society will depend the ultimate physical well being of mankind.—Cassier's Magazine.

A Methodist Minister Recommends Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

We have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in our home for seven years, and it has always proved to be a reliable remedy. We have found that it would do more than the manufacturers claim for it. It is especially good for croup and whooping cough,

He Fought at Gettysburg.

David Parker, of Fayette, N. Y., who lost a foot at Gettysburg, writes: "Electric Bitters have done me more good than any medicine I ever took. For several years I had stomach trouble, and paid out much money for medicine to little purpose until I began taking Electric Bitters. I would not take $500 for what they have done for me." Grand tonic for the aged and for female weaknesses. Great alterative and body builder; best of all for lame back and weak kidneys. Guaranteed by all druggist. 50c

The finest Coffee Substitute ever made, has recently been produced by Dr. Shoop, of Racine, Wis. You don't have to boil it twenty or thirty minutes, "Made in a minute," says the doctor. "Health Coffee" is really the closest Coffee Imitation ever yet produced. Not a grain of real Coffee in it either. Health Coffee Imitation is made from pure toasted cereals or grains, with malt, nuts, etc. Really it would fool an expert—were he to unknowingly drink it for coffee. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons.
